THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU

It has been a while since I've seen this congregation mobilize like we did this weekend. We have been shut down by Covid and it has felt so depressing. Seeing us all come together to make this youth rally work has been good medicine for me.

I was reminded of the many wonderful people here at North End. Every job was important. Every job had tremendous talent pulling it off. We had to be careful with contact and distancing protocols but we also wanted to make the event wonderful and exciting. You helped pull this together and make everything work well. This was such a blessing for these young folks who have been without for a year. It was great to see the teamwork and selfless fashion in which everyone pitched in.

And it was well worth it. Jesus put great value in the youth. He told His disciples to let the little children come to Him and warned that causing one of the little ones to stumble was worse than having a millstone hung around your neck and being drowned in the sea. The young folks are not just the future of the church; many of them are members of the church now. It is important that we place such importance on their spiritual development.

So thank you for everything that you did this weekend to make the youth rally such a success. It was wonderful to see the Lord's church mobilizing again. It was a fantastic work full of sacrifice and work. It was good work in the kingdom of our dear Lord.

Curtis Dickson is home recuperating from heart bypass surgery.

When He Comes

What if the Lord came tonight,
And the way I've lived has not been right.
What would I give to turn back time,
If the way I'd lived was not in line?

If I knew the Savior but left Him behind,
And lived my life as though I were blind,
What would my fate be in the end,
If I didn't follow Jesus, my devoted friend?

I'll have to answer for my own fate,
For at the last minute it will be too late,
If I didn't take time to fully prepare,
And devote my life unto His care.

He's given me time to get it right,
And patiently waited both day and night.
His coming should be my greatest hour
As He comes for me in a flash of power.

God help me prepare for that sweet day
Just help me stay in the narrow way.
When life gets hard and I want to flee,
I'll strive to be ready when You come for me.
